WELCOME!

Every year a staple of this guide is a series of testimonials from our friends, neighbors and community leaders talking about what they love about living here. Year after year, their answers are both consistent and surprising. We hear common threads of why this is such a great place to live and raise a family; how this region offers a colorful palette of arts, culture and education; and how a weekend here can include a hike in the woods, a game at the Dome and a five-star meal downtown no matter the season. But we also hear about caring friends and colleagues, unique neighborhoods, growing businesses, and how people have found their way back to call Central New York home after residing in other parts of the country.

Central New York is a community of neighbors who are eager to see this region not only survive, but thrive — and thrive it has. Our community is growing in new and exciting ways all of the time.

Whether you are looking for a place to start a business or raise a family — or both — this area has it all: jobs, homes, communities, great schools, health care, growing industries, countless ways to have fun, and one of the best quality of life standards in the entire country.

We are focused on the future and working tirelessly to position ourselves on the front lines of the next generation of technology development, new innovations, educational leadership and health care breakthroughs.

Talk to these friends, neighbors and community leaders and they will tell you what this place is all about — people chasing the future and pinning it down, right here in Central New York. Businesses of all shapes and sizes are investing in the region and its people. We are working, planning, building, strategizing and growing — together.

There is so much that makes this region special and unique — our seasons are the best example of that! You'll need your sunglasses in July and your snow boots in January, but we know how to have great fun wearing both — sometimes at the same time.

We hope this publication helps you understand what a fantastic place the Central New York is as you consider making our home, your home.

Welcome to Central New York. We hope you love it as much as we do!

Sincerely,

Robert M. Simpson, President
CenterState CEO

MEET THE NEIGHBORS

Kaitlyn Head, director of sales and marketing, Greek Peak Mountain Resort, Cortland

I AM DRAWN TO MY NEIGHBORHOOD BECAUSE of the small-town feel where everyone says hello to everyone with a warm smile. The local businesses collaboratively make an effort to connect with the community and share their passion. Each and every one has a unique story from where they started to where they are now.

MY FAVORITE LOCAL HAUNT IS Greek Peak. I grew up with the mountain in my backyard; skiing since I was 2 and snowboarding since I was 10. Growing up, I've met so many great people on the mountain and now, it has grown to a year-round destination with activities for everyone to enjoy. The restaurants are a great local spot to grab a bite, enjoy live entertainment and conversation. The mountain or tubing hill make winter enjoyable for everyone and the adventure center and waterpark give you that adrenaline thrill at any point in the year.

I FEEL MOST AT HOME riding my horses on family land, enjoying the peaceful sounds of nature around me. The views of the mountains or overlooking the city, both give me that comfort of home.

CENTRAL NEW YORK IS GREAT FOR the natural beauty of the area. We are so lucky to have the Finger Lakes around us surrounded by locally owned wineries, breweries and cideries.

SPORTS FACILITIES

Central New Yorkers love their sports. From professional, collegiate and school teams to recreational leagues and fundraisers, people young and old participate in many forms of athletic activity. Whether actively competing in events like the Dunn Tire Mountain Goat Run, Gillie Girl Sprint Triathlon and Syracuse Half Marathon, or showing support on the sidelines, area residents enjoy sports action at all levels. In addition, numerous sporting facilities encourage more people to become involved and indoor recreation centers allow athletes to play their sport year-round.

Professional teams include the Syracuse Mets (formerly the Syracuse Chiefs), the AAA affiliate team of the MLB

New York Mets. The Mets purchased the team in 2017 and committed to Syracuse for 25 years, prompting a $26.25 million investment in the team's stadium from state, county and city government. The Auburn Doubledays are an affiliate of the Washington Nationals. The Syracuse Crunch (AHL) are affiliated with the NHL Tampa Bay Lightning.

Collegiate athletic teams include the Division I Syracuse University men's football, basketball (2003 NCAA Champions), and lacrosse teams with more than 10 national championships. Both the men's and women's Syracuse University basketball teams made it to the 2016 Final Four. The Orange women advanced to the championship game but lost to the University of Connecticut, which won its fourth straight national title thanks to CNY native Breanna Stewart. The women's field hockey and men's cross-country teams at Syracuse University earned national titles in 2015. Le Moyne College and Onondaga Community College also boast national titles in baseball, basketball and volleyball. The greater region is also home to national champions including: Clarkson University's women's ice hockey team (2014 NC champion); SUNY Cortland men's soccer team won the 2016 State University of New York Athletic Conference Championship; and the Cornell University women's ice hockey team has won the ECAC hockey regular-season championship in 2010, 2011, 2012 and 2013.

ONONDAGA CREEKWALK

Winding its way through the city of Syracuse is the Onondaga Creekwalk — a 2.6-mile, 13-foot-wide trail that is ideal for running, walking or biking. The Creekwalk, which runs from the historic Armory Square district in downtown Syracuse to the southeast shore of Onondaga Lake, sits alongside Onondaga Creek. Eventually the trail will connect to the Loop the Lake Trail around Onondaga Lake as well as the Erie Canalway Trail. www.syr.gov.net/creekwalk.aspx

WINTER FUN

In some cities when it snows, life slows down or even comes to a complete halt — but not Syracuse. We are the #OfficialHomeOfWinter! The region and its hearty inhabitants are very much accustomed to snow, and lots of it, thanks to lake effect off nearby Lake Ontario. And while most locals have mastered the art of driving through snow, many also embrace the winter months by skiing, snowboarding, ice skating, snowshoeing or hiking. Bundle up the family for a local tree lighting at the holidays or for Winterfest in downtown Syracuse, featuring a chili cook-off and live music.

BREWERIES

Syracuse has a long and storied brewing history. Centrally located in the state, with rail lines and the Erie Canal nearby, Syracuse was a perfect place to brew and distribute beer during the 1800s. Brewery business peaked during the 1890s when the brewing industry employed 400 people locally and produced about 300,000 barrels of beer and ale each year, according to the Onondaga Historical Association. Prohibition all but wiped out the industry before it began to re-emerge in 1994 when the microbrewery trend began to sweep across the country, including here in Central New York, which is now home to more than a dozen microbreweries.

World-Class Wine Trails, Vineyards & Distilleries

Central New York is home to a world-class wine region in the Finger Lakes, which is just a short drive west from Syracuse. The lakes sit low in elevation and are surrounded by chalky, high-lime soil that is ideal for growing grapes. During the last 40 years, dozens of wineries have opened up and down the beautiful winding roads that line the narrow bands of water. Many win international awards for their reds and whites.

In addition to wine, Central New York is also home to a blossoming spirits industry. One of the leaders in that field is 1911 Established at Beak & Skiff Apple Orchards in LaFayette. 1911 now produces its own cider, wine, vodka and gin — all of which can be sampled at The Tasting Room, which also features a tavern and entertainment.

Most of the Finger Lakes region wineries offer samples either for free or for a few dollars. You can even make your own wine with custom labels at Lakeland Winery in Syracuse. Plan your trip with the Sip on Syracuse Beverage Trail or use one of these websites to find your favorite Finger Lake and all it has to offer!

FINGER LAKES CHEESE TRAIL

If there's anything that goes nicely with wine, it's cheese. The Finger Lakes Cheese Trail can satisfy your cravings to pair the two with this trail featuring 13 working farms that offer tastings, tours and lots of opportunities to purchase the cheesy goods. The trail's website offers information about its members, a map, cheese recipes and an events calendar. www.flcheesetrail.com

SCENIC BYWAYS

The Central New York region has many stories to tell, all from the comfort of your car. New York state encourages travelers to "follow a scenic byway to discover the region's scenic, recreational, cultural, natural, historic or archaeological significance."

This region's byways include Cayuga Lake Scenic Byway, Route 20, Scenic Route 90 and the Revolutionary Trail. Plan a trip today at www.dot.ny.gov/display/programs/scenic-byways.

The Great Lakes Seaway Trail, a nationally designated scenic byway, runs through the city of Oswego.

DINING OPTIONS

Central New Yorkers take pride in many things: snowfall bragging rights, great college sports and lots and lots of really good food! If the evening calls for dining out, the only problem you will have will be deciding where to go as options for cuisine, atmosphere, price and personality are truly endless. When it comes to restaurants, this region has it all. Feel like a casual burger-and-fries dinner? No problem. Want to feel a summer breeze over a basket of clams? Sure thing. Need a really special place to celebrate? We've got that, too. It won't take long to find an old favorite or a new one.

HOUSING

SYRACUSE RANKED AS THE NO. 1 PLACE TO LIVE IN NEW YORK STATE, ACCORDING TO A 2017 U.S. NEWS AND WORLD REPORT LIST.

Syracuse also ranked No. 16 on a U.S. News and World Report list of the Best Affordable Places to Live in the U.S. in 2018 and was No. 48 overall on the list of best places to live in the United States.

From U.S. News & World Report: "Syracuse is more affordable than other major U.S. metro areas, making it a popular place to live for families and retirees. Young professionals also enjoy the region, both for its prices and because there's plenty to do."

Central New York offers a wide variety of housing and remarkably low interest rates. The rental market is also strong, with multiple family dwellings leading demand. So whether you are looking for a big family house, a trendy urban condo or something in between, you'll find it here.

MEET THE NEIGHBORS

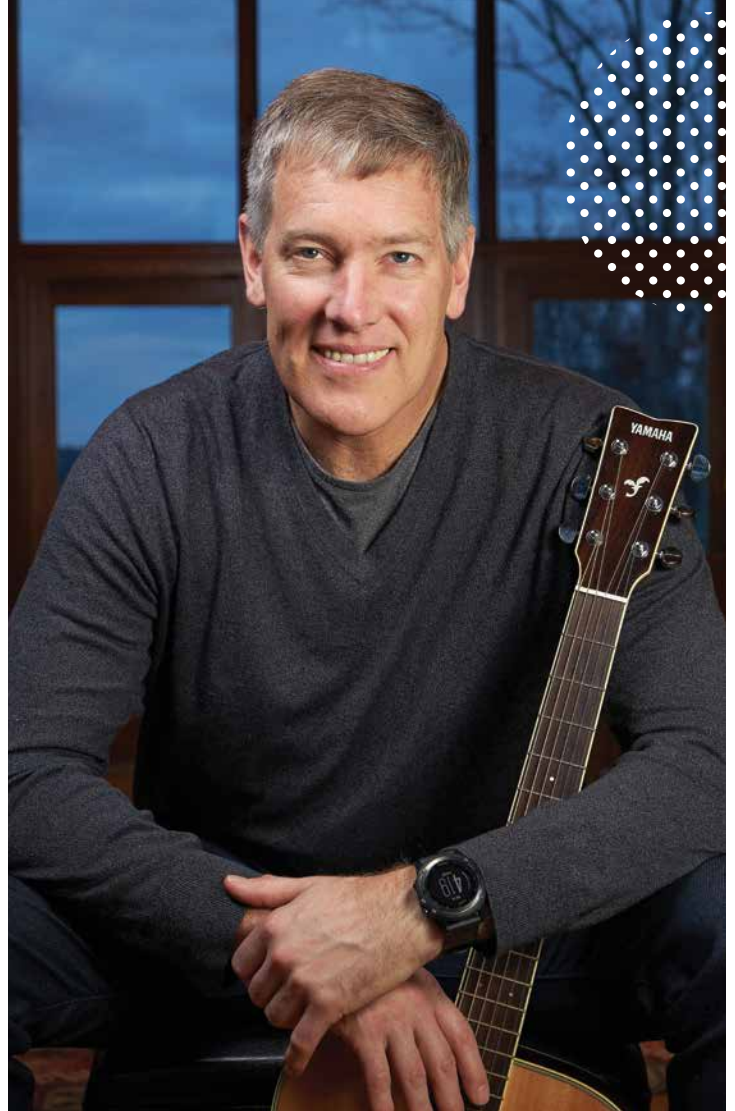

Chris Dugan, president, Knowles Precision Devices, Cazenovia

I AM DRAWN TO MY NEIGHBORHOOD BECAUSE I love Cazenovia in the summer. It has a great diner, two good coffee shops and a number of pubs and cafes. I am a cyclist and enjoy going for a long bike ride on Saturday mornings, then walking over to the Saturday street market to buy locally sourced vegetables, meats and cheese. I meet someone new every week there.

MY FAVORITE LOCAL HAUNT IS Empire Farm Brewery in Cazenovia. You can go with a big group, or show up alone and feel equally comfortable. In the summer and fall, you can sit outside; the menu is full of hearty fare (I like the spicy pork burger), and it's always fun to order a flight of sample-size beers.

I FEEL MOST AT HOME in the summer, where I spend a lot of time paddle boarding or playing full-contact croquet with my boys, followed by a barbecue on my deck. In the fall/winter, I like sitting in my recliner in front of the fireplace, watching the deer in the meadow in my backyard, reading or playing guitar.

CENTRAL NEW YORK IS GREAT FOR its changing seasons. When I graduated from University of Rochester in 1987, I moved away. In 2001, I moved back after living in Virginia, California, Pennsylvania and Panama. You can hunt, fish, ski, snowshoe, kayak, and waterski within 20 minutes of most houses. A young family can afford a decent house in a safe neighborhood, and a bad traffic day is a 10-minute delay. There are festivals in Clinton Square and a terrific outdoor concert venue. The quality of life is really exceptional. And the local economy has really diversified. I've been around, and CNY is a pretty good place to be right now.

MEET THE NEIGHBORS

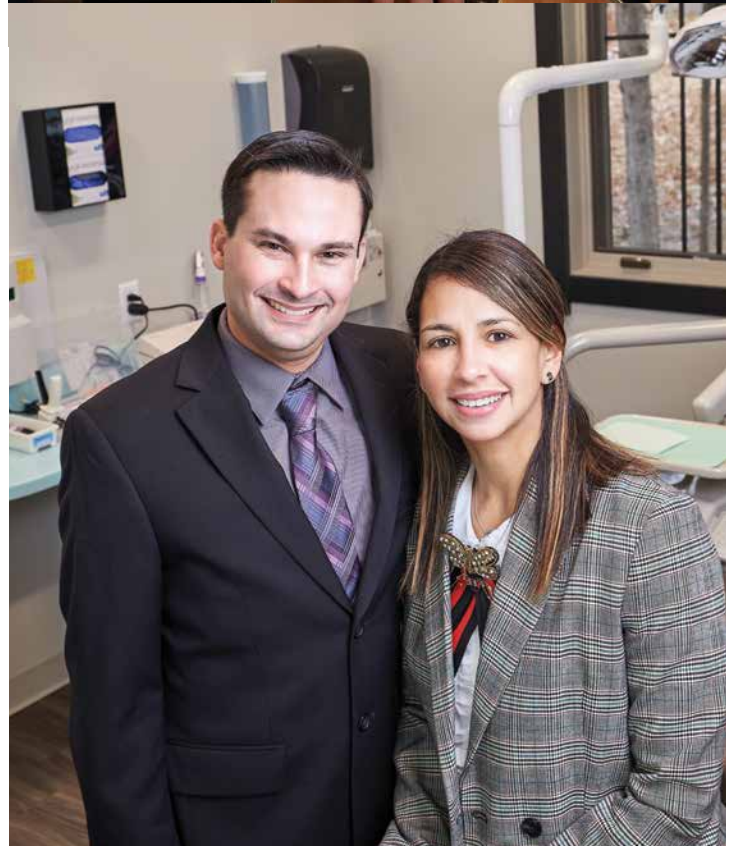

Dr. Juan Lopez and Dr. Yamilka Serrano, owner and associate of Dental Health Solutions, Fulton

WE ARE DRAWN TO OUR NEIGHBORHOOD BECAUSE it's a small, peaceful, tight-knit neighborhood. Store access is only a 10- to 15-minute drive away. We like where we live and work because of the amazing communities. Dr. Lopez does a lot of work for the community through Friends of Fulton Parks to help restore and rejuvenate the community.

OUR FAVORITE LOCAL HAUNTS ARE a few local joints in town. Often, we get lunch with our staff from Red Baron. We get our sweet treats from Cathy's Creations. A favorite place to dine is Mohegan Manor and in the summer, we like to indulge in a seasonal favorite, Shannon's Hot Dogs by Crystal. We often enjoy seasonal events and activities at Beaver Lake Nature Center.

WE FEEL MOST AT HOME playing basketball down at the Fulton War Memorial, hitting the gym, exploring new local restaurants, traveling, taking a stroll in Onondaga Lake Park and staying active in the community. Dr. Lopez is an avid reader who spends a great deal of his free time reading.

CENTRAL NEW YORK IS GREAT FOR laying down roots for yourself and your family, and a great place to have a business. The wine business in and around Upstate New York is unlike anything else.

THE CITY OF SYRACUSE

The city of Syracuse is a true melting pot of cultures, housing options and communities. You can find everything from a chic downtown loft to a sprawling mansion, all within a few miles of one another. The city is spotted with quaint and picturesque neighborhoods that include parks, sidewalks and amenities, as well as a thriving and growing community of downtown residents.

Apartments in former factories, warehouses and historic buildings comprise some of Syracuse's most coveted homes. The Pike Block in the heart of downtown, Courier Building and Merchants Commons in Hanover Square, Franklin View Terrace and Mission Landing in Franklin Square, Creekwalk Commons in Clinton Square, Center Armory, Greenway Place, Icon Tower, Loews Landmark Condos and Nettleton Commons all provide fashionable addresses overlooking the city streets.

Syracuse neighborhoods include: Downtown, University Hill, Westcott Nation, Eastwood, Sedgwick, Strathmore, the North Side, Tipperary Hill and Little Italy.

ONONDAGA COUNTY SUBURBS

East

Towns and villages: DeWitt, Fayetteville, Jamesville, Manlius.
The eastern suburbs of Syracuse offer neighborhoods near the hustle and bustle of businesses and restaurants along two main thoroughfares, Erie Boulevard East (Route 5) and East Genesee Street (Route 92), and at Towne Center in Fayetteville.

North

Towns and villages: Baldwinsville, Cicero, Clay, Liverpool, Lysander, Salina, Van Buren.
There is a working lock (Lock 24) located on the Seneca River in the heart of Baldwinsville, and nearby Timber Banks is one of the area's residential showpieces. Miles of walking trails take you through woodlands year-round. A Nicklaus-designed 18-hole championship golf course adjacent to the Seneca River Marina promises an unparalleled combination for leisure time enjoyment.

South

Towns and villages: Fabius, LaFayette, Pompey, Spafford, Tully.
Just a few minutes from downtown to the south of Syracuse are rolling hills and picturesque valleys. Land is plentiful here, with apple orchards accentuating its beauty. Farms dot the hillsides, lending a sense of peace and tranquility to the area, which is spectacular in the fall with its brightly colored foliage. A little further south, ski slopes are carved out of the more mountainous terrain.

West

Towns and villages: Camillus, Elbridge, Geddes, Marcellus, Onondaga, Otisco, Skaneateles.
The western suburbs offer a crown jewel in the resort village of Skaneateles, situated on one of the region's pristine Finger Lakes. Nearby Otisco Lake is a mecca for boaters and anglers. Looming high over the city of Syracuse is historic Onondaga Hill, which is also home to Onondaga Community College.

Did You Know?

Syracuse ranked No. 6 in top 100 cities for millennials according to Growella.

FAMOUS CENTRAL NEW YORKERS

Post Malone: The American rapper, singer, songwriter and record producer – who is well known for his face tattoos – was born in Syracuse. In August 2018, he broke a 34-year-old record held by Michael Jackson for most weeks on Billboard’s Top R&B and Hip-Hop Albums chart.

Matilda Joslyn Gage: In 1852 Gage was the youngest speaker at the woman’s rights convention in Syracuse. Born in nearby Cicero, Gage was one of the century’s most well-known suffragists and fought for Native-American rights.

Steve Wynn: The famous Las Vegas hotel and casino owner attended Manlius Military Academy, which is now Manlius Pebble Hill School.

Robert “Bob” H. Swan: Named chief executive officer of Intel Corporation in 2018, Swan was born in Syracuse and graduated from Corcoran High School before going on to earn degrees from the University of Buffalo and Binghamton University.

David Klein: The creator of Jelly Belly jelly beans was born in Syracuse. He and his partner sold the company for $5 million in 1980.

The Baldwins: The matriarch of the famous Baldwin family – Carol, mom to Alec, Daniel, Billy and Stephen – lives in the Syracuse area. Her sons have been spotted in and around the region and Alec has spoken publicly about how much his family loves Wegmans supermarkets.

Tom Cruise: Award-winning actor Tom Cruise was born in Syracuse.

Eric Carle: The famous children’s author and illustrator was born in Syracuse in 1929. He is best known for “The Very Hungry Caterpillar.”

Jon Fishman: The drummer for rock band Phish attended Jamesville-DeWitt High School in Central New York.

Jimmy Van Heusen: The American composer was born in Syracuse and studied at Cazenovia Seminary and Syracuse University before winning four Academy Awards for his work.

Jason Grilli: The major league baseball relief pitcher attended Charles W. Baker High School in Baldwinsville. He has played for several MLB teams, including most recently the Toronto Blue Jays and the Texas Rangers.

MEET THE NEIGHBORS

Dr. Malika Carter, chief diversity officer, SUNY Environmental Science and Forestry (ESF), Syracuse

I AM DRAWN TO MY NEIGHBORHOOD BECAUSE of the genuine people, the good food and the taste of strong coffee, all of which enriches my life. Growing up in a blue-collar family, all three of these ingredients were prominent in my neighborhood.

MY FAVORITE LOCAL HAUNT is one of our local farms or community gardens to complement one of my homemade meals and honor the work of a community farmer.

I FEEL MOST AT HOME somewhere in or around the SUNY ESF quad. The palpable energy of scholarly and co-curricular activity that spills over into the community is key to why I call the region home.

CENTRAL NEW YORK IS GREAT FOR some of the most engaging civic organizations that support service and humanitarian projects in Central New York (CNY) and abroad. Through civic engagement, I have experienced social activities and networking opportunities that are of particular interest to my personal and professional lives. Living in CNY, I have been able to develop professional relationships, enhance my career, become philanthropically active and contribute to the economic development and quality of life of our community. I could list so many positive aspects of life in CNY – events at the New York State Fairgrounds, outdoor activities, easy access to bustling city and calming country, comedy and music shows – the list goes on.

MEET THE NEIGHBORS

Edward Levine, RPAS (Remotely Piloted Aircraft Systems) technology teacher, PSLA Fowler High School, Syracuse City School District

I AM DRAWN TO MY NEIGHBORHOOD BECAUSE I am close to so many personal and professional opportunities. I also like being close to my family in Rochester and still within day-trip distance to the Adirondacks, Canada and many seasonal events around Central New York (CNY).

MY FAVORITE LOCAL HAUNT IS Syracuse Martial Arts Association where I work out most days after work. I am very happy to have found a place that has really encouraged me to stay in shape year-round.

I FEEL MOST AT HOME surrounded by DIY projects. At work, I help my high school students building robots, drones and any other ideas they have. At home, I build my own drones, but my wife and I have also have gotten into woodworking, so my shop at home is very eclectic.

CENTRAL NEW YORK IS GREAT FOR RPAS technology and opportunity. Syracuse and CNY are rich with businesses, people and unique opportunities in areas related to the development of RPAS. I feel very fortunate that so many individuals in the field have worked with us at the Syracuse City School District to build an RPAS educational program for our students. Right now the industry is in a very explosive development phase, both in its technology and business, and my students now have such great potential to shape this maturing field.

HIGHER EDUCATION IS WITHIN EASY REACH

The 12-county CenterState New York region is fortunate to be home to more than 46 colleges and universities that are fostering tomorrow's leaders — both in this community and around the world. With nearly 200,000 students seeking an education here, the region has become a magnet for the best and brightest around the globe. These colleges and universities are sharing their talents, too, as they send students and faculty abroad to establish partnerships in business, medicine, science, technology and more.

How to register a child for public school

Call your local school district's main office and ask for instructions. You will likely need proof of address in your school district. If your child is new to school (kindergarten or pre-k), you will likely be required to present a birth certificate, immunization record and a report of a physical exam. If the child is transferring from another school, you may be asked to bring a report card or other transfer paperwork from your child's last school. The school may also ask for an immunization record and a physical exam report. Many school districts now offer registration instructions, forms and information on their websites.

HEALTH CARE

CENTRAL NEW YORK IS HOME TO NUMEROUS QUALITY HOSPITALS AND SPECIALIZED MEDICAL FACILITIES.

For those needing medical treatment, St. Joseph's Health, SUNY Upstate Medical University and Crouse Health have each expanded dramatically in the last 10 years. The world-class Golisano Children's Hospital, SUNY Upstate's new Cancer Center and the Syracuse VA Medical Center serve patients from across the state.

CENTRAL NEW YORK HEALTH CARE QUICK FACTS

Same-day radiation for breast cancer: Upstate University Hospital is the first hospital in the region to offer intraoperative radiation therapy, which is the delivery of radiation during surgery to remove breast cancer. The innovative procedure can reduce radiation treatments – and trips to the hospital – from 15 to 20 to just one, at the same time as surgery.

Liver transplant clinic: The University of Rochester Medical Center has opened an ambulatory clinic site at St. Joseph's Health, which will offer care closer to home for hundreds of liver transplant patients who live in Central New York and the Mohawk, Hudson Valley, Capital and Northern New York regions.

CNY Biotech Accelerator and Upstate MIND: The Biotech Accelerator supports bioscience and medical technology and biotech entrepreneurial activity. Upstate MIND includes the Molecular Pathology Next Generation Sequencing Lab for genetic and molecular testing to predict and prevent disease.

Concussion Management Program and CNY Sports Concussion Center at Upstate Medical University: Recognized by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention as a significant public health issue, this Syracuse facility is on the cutting-edge of concussion research and treatment.

Penicillin & Bristol-Myers Squibb: The Bristol-Myers Squibb factory in East Syracuse is responsible for helping create the world's first synthetic penicillin. For many years, the company produced more of the antibiotic than anyone else in the world. Bristol-Myers Squibb, with a local manufacturing facility since 1943, also makes Abilify, Eliquis and Plavix.

Elizabeth Blackwell: The first American woman to ever earn a medical degree attended Geneva Medical College, which is now Upstate Medical University, in the late 1840s.

Welch Allyn: Next time you're in the doctor's office — anywhere — look at the name on the medical equipment in the room. Chances are, it says Welch Allyn. The Skaneateles Falls-based medical equipment company was acquired by Hill-Rom Holdings in 2015 for $2.05 billion.

Early hospital: Syracuse was an early leader in health care services as the first public hospital opened in 1870.

Poison Control Center at Upstate Medical University: 90 percent of calls are handled without further need for medical care, saving millions of dollars each year.

MEET THE NEIGHBORS

Deborah Eastman, registered nurse, OB/GYN floor, Auburn Community Hospital, Auburn

I AM DRAWN TO MY NEIGHBORHOOD BECAUSE this is where I grew up and I know so many people and have such great friends. I love this area because of the change of seasons, and the beauty of the Finger Lakes and attractiveness of a small community. I left this area for a short time and moved to Baton Rouge, Louisiana, but I missed the change of seasons and my friends so much I had to come back.

MY FAVORITE LOCAL HAUNT IS sitting outside by my pool with family and friends. I enjoy going out to dinner at great restaurants in the area and then perhaps a cocktail at A.T. Walley & Co.

I FEEL MOST AT HOME in a “small-town vibe,” which allows you to know so many people.

In addition, being a nurse at Auburn Community Hospital is special because I am able to take care of friends. One of my favorite stories is the day I was able to help a good friend’s daughter deliver her baby at the hospital. There are few things in life as special or as beautiful as being part of a moment like that and being able to share it with someone you know.

CENTRAL NEW YORK IS GREAT FOR making friends and simple pleasures in a beautiful setting. I’m thrilled that Auburn Community Hospital continues to grow and offer new services and more jobs, which helps our community prosper. I am proud to say I work at Auburn Community Hospital and happy that I live in this charming community.

HOACNY.COM

QUALITY HEALTH CARE IS THE CORE OF OUR COMMUNITY

The Syracuse metropolitan area includes four acute general hospitals: Crouse Health, St. Joseph's Health, Upstate University Hospital of the State University of New York, and the Syracuse VA Medical Center. It also includes 11 nursing homes and several ambulatory care facilities.

- More than 2,000 general and specialty practicing physicians call Central New York home.
- Crouse Health supports regional centers for obstetrics and neonatology. The hospital also maintains the largest ambulatory surgery programs in the region and is a Chest Pain and Heart Failure Center and a NYS-designated Regional Stroke Center. Crouse Health recently opened a new 52,000-square-foot emergency department.
- St. Joseph's Health operates the largest programs in the region for cardiology and open heart surgery, and supports major programs in peripheral vascular surgery, nephrology and orthopedics. In 2018, the hospital completed a $32 million project to open a new 45,000-square-foot Cardiovascular Care Center. The space includes additional procedure rooms, a new operating room and expanded and renovated spaces for patients as well as technology upgrades.
- Crouse Health and St. Joseph's Health operate the Pomeroy College of Nursing and St. Joseph's College of Nursing, respectively.
- Upstate University Hospital serves as the tertiary medical center hospital for 17 counties in the center of Upstate New York. The hospital includes regional centers for trauma care, neurosurgery, burn care and other specialties including the Golisano Children's Hospital and Upstate Cancer Center. The cancer center expanded by two additional floors in 2018 with a new, state-of-the-art clinical pathology lab and an additional 20,000 square feet to see patients.
- SUNY Upstate Medical University houses the only academic medical school in the area; it also collaborates with allied teaching facilities. In 2016, Upstate Medical University completed the CNY Biotech Accelerator and unveiled the Medical Innovation and Novel Discovery Center (Upstate MIND).
- The Syracuse VA Medical Center is a teaching facility affiliated with SUNY Upstate Medical University. It serves veterans from 13 counties and operates seven community-based outpatient clinics. It features a $90 million six-story Spinal Cord Disorder Center, a Level II Polytrauma Center, an Amputee Center of Care, a new Compensation and Pension examination suite, and a new Women's Wellness Center. Additional services are offered through its medicine, neurology, surgery and psychiatry departments.

NEWCOMERS

WELCOME — WE'RE HERE TO HELP! If you're looking for a great place to live, where you can find affordable housing, good schools, easy commutes, cultural opportunities galore and four beautiful seasons, look no further. Syracuse and Central New York offer this and more, and since we know relocating to a new area can be daunting, this section is loaded with resources to get you settled.

We put a simple message out into the communities we serve.

Local. Community. Trust.

Pathfinder Bank has been Central New York's hometown bank for over 150 years. Our commitment to the communities we serve - in the Central New York Area - is something we take great pride in.

Your community. . . your community bank!

MEET THE NEIGHBORS

Chad Wright, vice president of technical services, Rapid Response Monitoring, Syracuse

I AM DRAWN TO MY NEIGHBORHOOD BECAUSE of the spacious and country feel. There is a small town vibe in our caring community and we are only minutes from the city. My family and I take advantage of the many great community events, so being close by is important to us.

MY FAVORITE LOCAL HAUNT IS actually several of the great local spots. My top three are the Empire Brewing Company for downtown feel and the selection of craft beers; Owerla Vineyards for the great atmosphere and local New York state wine; and Kitty Hoynes Irish Pub for their delicious Reuben sandwich.

I FEEL MOST AT HOME sitting in the backyard, spending time with family and friends while enjoying the fresh air and views of the rolling countryside.

CENTRAL NEW YORK IS GREAT FOR raising a family because of the excellent schools and the diversity of access to arts, sports and the outdoors. Having lived in the Washington, D.C. area for the past 20 years, I thoroughly enjoy that Central New York provides affordable housing and similar large urban benefits including theaters, Syracuse University sports and the amphitheater for outdoor concerts.

LOCAL LINGO

Brush up on names, words and landmarks to sound like a Syracuse local.

Green Lakes: Short for Green Lakes State Park, which is a pristine New York State Park in eastern Onondaga County. Its claim-to-fame are its uniquely colored lakes thanks to a rare instance of fall and spring waters not mixing to dilute the colors. The park also includes miles and miles of trails, an 18-hole golf course, a restaurant, public beach, playground, boat house and campground.

Hotel Syracuse: Now officially called the Marriott Syracuse Downtown, many still refer to this gem by its original name, the Hotel Syracuse. Built in 1924, Hotel Syracuse was a hub of downtown for decades. It fell into disrepair before finally closing in 2004. Local developer Ed Riley acquired the building in 2014 and completed a $57 million renovation before the hotel reopened for business in August 2016.

M Street: Short for Marshall Street, which is just off the Syracuse University campus and home to a smattering of great food and drink options for students and game-goers. It's also where hundreds if not thousands of students took to the streets — and the trees — to celebrate the men's basketball national championship in 2003.

Congress: It's back in session in Syracuse with the re-launch of this historic local brew by Willow Rock Brewing Company. The Haberle brewery made Congress Beer from the late 1800s until the 1960s. Willow Rock worked with the Onondaga Historical Association to use notes on the original recipe to recreate the beer.

Salt potatoes: Buy a bag of taters in the grocery store here in the summertime and you'll find a small bag of salt in the bottom. Why? Because you're in Syracuse! Once the salt capital of the world (the area was once home to huge salt springs and production companies) Syracusans learned to love their spuds boiled in salty water. The salt coats the skin, which prevents the potato from getting waterlogged. Try them at the fair or make them at home and call yourself a true Syracusan.

Caz: Short for Cazenovia, the quaint village sits on the edge of Cazenovia Lake. Some of the region's oldest history can be traced to Cazenovia, which is home to the Lorenzo State Historic Site and the beautiful Brewster Inn.

Empire: Now when you say "Wanna go to Empire?" you have two options: one in downtown Syracuse and another in Cazenovia. Armory Square is home to the original Empire Brewing Company, famous for its eclectic menu, live music and of course, craft beer. And open since 2016, the Empire Farm Brewery is a 40,000-square-foot facility that features a 60-barrel brewery, pub and restaurant. The grounds include a hops farm and outdoor seating area with fire pits and bright orange Adirondack chairs.

The Melo Center: Short for the Carmelo K. Anthony Center at Syracuse University, The Melo Center is a 54,000-square-foot basketball facility named after NBA player and former SU standout Carmelo Anthony, who donated $3 million to the project. The dynamic player led SU to the 2003 NCAA Men's Basketball Championship. The facility is attached to Manley Field House.

The Parade: The annual St. Patrick's Parade strolls through downtown Syracuse on the Saturday before St. Patrick's Day (unless it falls on a Saturday). The parade attracts thousands of hardy Central New Yorkers, who are known to line the streets in sun, rain and snow.

Wegmans: Central New Yorkers take great pride in showing off the chain of grocery stores, beloved by everyone from Alec Baldwin to throngs of Syracuse University students for decades. Wegmans is known for being a great place to shop and eat, as many stores in the area boast coffee bars and hot food buffets that feature sushi, Chinese food, pizza and more. Wegmans DeWitt has also opened a Burger Bar, Mexican food station and specialty pizza counter.

Syracuse: Is it pronounced like:

Deer (Seer – acuse)?

Bear (Sarah – cuse)?

Sir (Sir – acuse)?

There's lots of debate among Syracusans.

What's your favorite?

MADISON COUNTY

IS A BEAUTIFUL AND WELCOMING COMMUNITY. And you're invited to unwind, explore and enjoy all that it offers. Enjoy authentic farm-to-table foods at the Colgate Inn in Hamilton and the Brewster Inn in Cazenovia, plus craft beverages in the tasting rooms of our many local producers. Visitors can relax in quaint bed-and-breakfasts and polished country inns. Whether you're interested in cycling the Erie Canalway Trail or shopping at unique boutiques, Madison County has plenty to explore!

BUSINESS

FROM INTERNATIONAL CORPORATIONS TO LOCAL, INDEPENDENTLY OWNED BUSINESSES, thousands of companies are proud to call Central New York home. High tech, engineering, and eds and meds are just a few of the region's growing industries. The area is also a global leader in unmanned aerial systems technology with startups and businesses primed for growth.

MEET THE NEIGHBORS

Vijay Srinivas, director of A-Lab, Assured Information Security, Inc., Syracuse and Rome

I AM DRAWN TO MY NEIGHBORHOOD BECAUSE it is where the action is ... as the saying goes. AIS' newest office location at 250 Clinton St. is at the heart of downtown Syracuse. Our view from the fifth floor reminds us of the region's glorious past and helps channel the vibrancy and resilience that is the hallmark of Central New York (CNY) as we spur new business here. Yet, we are located within an hour's drive of our headquarters in Rome.

MY FAVORITE LOCAL HAUNT IS Wegmans in DeWitt. I like to cook from scratch and I can find any ingredient that a recipe calls for at Wegmans. I strive to pick up at least one grocery item that I have never tried before when I shop there – leading to endless discovery and fun while cooking.

I FEEL MOST AT HOME at home! Having friends and family over is something that my wife and I enjoy. We are blessed to have good friends. As a freshly minted grandpa, hanging out with my grandson when he visits us from California is the absolute best.

CENTRAL NEW YORK IS GREAT FOR being most welcoming and supportive. CNY has all the advantages of a small town – close-knit community, great place to raise a family and affordable real estate. It's also home to technology companies working on mission-critical systems solving the nation's problems and yet only a short road-trip from several major cities. The global impact of the region is tremendous. CNY's leadership in unmanned aerial systems is an example of how the region is pioneering new technology and capability.

CENTRAL NEW YORK'S BUSINESS RESOURCES

CenterState CEO — an independent economic development strategist, business leadership organization and chamber of commerce — offers dozens of resources to start, grow and bring your business to Central New York. 315-470-1800; www.centerstateceo.com

START YOUR BUSINESS

The region boasts a host of resources that support early-stage businesses and entrepreneurs, be it seed fund programs; incubators, accelerators and other facilities to kick off your business; collaborative higher education partnerships; mentors and other supports for your business.

- Funding opportunities - GENIUS NY, Grants for Growth, Up Start
- Incubators and accelerators - The Tech Garden, NYS Innovation Hot Spot Incubator, CNY Biotech Accelerator, Syracuse Center of Excellence
- Collaborative partnerships - Syracuse University, SUNY Upstate Medical University

GROW YOUR BUSINESS

If your business is looking to grow or expand in the region, experts can help you find the right resources, financing and incentives for your project.

- Business relocation and expansion - assistance with finding space to suit your growth; expediting zoning and planning approvals; and coordinating with government agencies.
- Financing and investment opportunities - help with identifying available grants, low-interest loans and arranging for complete incentive packages.
- Export assistance and consultation - a regional export strategy is in place to increase the global competitiveness of the region and its businesses; a designated export consultant assists in making international connections and guides businesses through the legalities and considerations of going global. The Central New York International Business Alliance provides export services to companies interested in joining the global market. It offers events, workshops and seminars; trade missions; connecting new-to-export companies with experienced export mentors; counseling; and access to a network of members.

- Research and development partnerships - partnerships between economic development and academic and research institutions in the region assist businesses with research, development and product commercialization needs to achieve growth. This includes subject matter experts and R&D facilities.

BRING YOUR BUSINESS TO CENTRAL NEW YORK

Businesses choose to locate in Central New York for its workforce, market accessibility and natural advantages. Located at the crossroads of the Northeast, Central New York provides easy access to major markets.

- Business relocation - assistance is available with obtaining grants and low-interest loans; expediting zoning and planning approvals; arranging for complete incentive packages; and coordinating with government agencies on such issues as water, sewers and roads.
- Physical space - location resources include: business and industrial parks; incubators and accelerators; and an FAA unmanned aircraft systems test site for companies interested in exploring the commercial use of drones. Help is available for selecting the appropriate sites for business expansion, and navigating available real estate for office, commercial or industrial operations.
- Recruiting employees - Central New York's quality of life is second to none. This piece, the CNY Community Guide, is a great recruitment piece for prospective employees that highlights all aspects of the area, including business, health care, education, housing, transportation, relocation services and leisure activities.

Lights, camera, action – CNY!

Central New York is now home to a growing film industry thanks to filmmaker Jeremy Garelick and his company, American High. In 2017, Garelick purchased a large empty school outside Liverpool for $1 million. The school has become American High's headquarters — Syracuse Studios. Garelick and his business partner have already produced several films, with most of the filming happening right here in Central New York.

American High uses interns from many of the nearby colleges and puts out a local casting call for each new film. Garelick hopes to employ a full crew in Syracuse and double his staff over the next few years.

STRATEGIC INVESTMENTS: A REGION ON THE RISE

The region's strategic economic development plan, CNY Rising, offers a vision for accelerating investments in key areas of significant market opportunity, including unmanned aerial systems (UAS). The potential UAS market size is estimated to grow to approximately $89 billion worldwide by 2022, creating a unique opportunity for domestic and foreign-owned businesses. With a robust network of resources, assets, partners and infrastructure, the region is uniquely positioned to grow and support businesses in this and related industries.

UAS CENTRAL

Central New York and the Mohawk Valley are leading the development of a corridor of innovation and testing that will take the unmanned aerial systems industry to new heights. A complete UAS ecosystem of unmatched public-private partnerships, resources for startups and businesses, and initiatives fueled by CNY Rising make this region UAS Central. www.uascentral.com

UAS Central for Business

Some of the world's best companies are already doing business here, and incentives, infrastructure and industry expertise make it a prime location to grow a UAS-related business.

Incentives/Investment – New York state is making an unprecedented investment in the development of UAS infrastructure, and providing incentives to companies relocating to the region. In addition to regular programs and resources New York state has partnered with CenterState CEO to launch the UAS Central Job Fund. This outstanding resource provides existing and new UAS companies a significant incentive to catalyze job growth in the region.

Infrastructure & Assets:

- The Unmanned Secure Autonomous Flight Environment project — Project U-SAFE — will accelerate commercial UAS development and operations. It includes $35 million for the continued buildout of the world's first 50-mile unmanned traffic management corridor for beyond visual line of sight operations; the creation of NUSTAR, the most comprehensive UAS standardized testing facility in the nation; and support of Drone Innovation Zones to seed and accelerate the growth of unmanned systems-focused startups.
- One of just seven FAA-designated UAS test sites in the world is headquartered at Griffiss International Airport, offering a world-class facility and diverse airspace to test UAS applications.
- The Griffiss Business & Technology Park has attained national recognition for transforming a former Air Force installation into a vibrant business and technology park, is now home to more than 75 businesses and 5,700 employees.

Industry Expertise – With the region's industrial roots in the aerospace industry, decades of DOD and military aviation heritage and private sector experience and expertise in sensing technologies, our executives, professionals and support resources are among the best in the industry.

UAS Central Job Fund

Funded with $5 million from New York state; $4.1 million was committed in 2018 to six companies that will create 199 new jobs.

Average wages of positions at companies using the Job Fund are in excess of $75,000 annually.

Another $5 million is newly available with New York's recent commitment of additional funds.

To learn more or apply to the UAS Central Job Fund, visit www.uascentral.com/job-fund.

Talent – The workforce of tomorrow can be found here. We have more than 415,000 people working in UAS supply-chain industries throughout New York state, with 29,000+ UAS supply-chain firms. New York is No. 1 in the Northeast in total STEM graduates, annually, with more than 300,000 students and 81 colleges and universities within 100 miles of the UAS Central region.

UAS CENTRAL FOR STARTUPS

The UAS startup ecosystem includes university research, incubators, and the world's largest business accelerator for unmanned systems, GENIUS NY.

GENIUS NY is focused on unmanned systems: software, hardware, analytics, and IoT. The year-long, in-residence program awards five finalist teams a total of $3 million in investment, making it the largest competition of its kind in the world. Finalists are selected from a competitive pool of submissions from across the globe. The program also provides UAS startups all the tools they need for success, including stipends, resources, programming and connections. The program is entering its third year in 2019 and the newest cohort of finalists will join previous teams that are still in Syracuse growing their companies and the UAS ecosystem. Learn more or apply at www.geniusny.com.

UAS CENTRAL PARTNERS

Our private sector, government, academic and NGO partners are all critical to building a UAS ecosystem primed for business growth.

NUAIR Alliance - a New York-based nonprofit coalition of more than 200 private and public entities and academic institutions working together to operate and oversee UAS test ranges in New York, Massachusetts and Michigan.

Corporate Partners - some of the industry's strongest companies, including Lockheed Martin, Saab, Gryphon Sensors, SRC, AIS, Unifly, Northeast Information Discovery, Thales, AirMap, Microdrones and MOOG, already do business here and use the region's resources and FAA-approved test site.

Other Partners - some of the best in the UAS industry come together in New York, including NASA; FAA; and Association for Unmanned Vehicle Systems International.

Bristol-Myers Squibb

At Bristol-Myers Squibb, we are working together for patients.

Our mission is clear — we discover, develop and deliver transformational medicines that help people prevail over serious diseases.

Our sense of urgency is real — we work every day to push the boundaries of scientific discovery and to make a meaningful difference in the lives of patients.

It's what we do. It's why we do it.

UNIFLY LAUNCHING INTO NORTH AMERICA FROM UAS CENTRAL

Unifly is an excellent example of how the UAS ecosystem all comes together in Central New York. In August 2018, Unifly — the leading provider of unmanned aerial systems traffic management (UTM) in Europe — announced that it was entering into an agreement with NUAIR to provide UTM services for the 50-mile corridor, and leveraging an incentive from the UAS Central Job Fund to establish its North American corporate headquarters in Syracuse, creating about 40 new jobs. New York state's strategic investments in UAS will have a positive economic impact on the region for years to come. Learn more about Unifly and its story at <http://bit.ly/UASPartnership>.

INVENTIONS WITH CNY TIES

Ferris Wheel: The first Ferris Wheel was built in Syracuse for the New York State Fair. It had four cars that could hold 20 people and was rotated by hand.

Air-cooled engine: Designed for the Franklin automobile, the first air-cooled engine was manufactured in Syracuse in 1902. It now lives in the Smithsonian Institute.

Penicillin: Bristol Laboratories (now Bristol-Myers Squibb) manufactured the first synthetic penicillin here in 1959.

Drive-in bank window: The first customer to drive up to a bank and do business did it in Syracuse when Merchant's Bank opened the first drive-in bank window here in 1941.

Shot clock: The owners of the Syracuse Nationals basketball team invented the shot clock in 1954 to quicken the game and attract more fans.

Cellophane: The discoverer of the kitchen staple is from Cortland County.

Loafers: The A.E. Nettleton Company, of Syracuse, created the first pair of loafers in 1937.

Brannock Device: Charles Brannock, whose father owned the Park-Brannock Shoe Co. in downtown Syracuse, invented the device in 1926 to measure shoe sizes — still in use today.

Lacrosse: The originators of modern-day lacrosse can be traced to the Cayuga, Oneida, Onondaga, Mohawk, Seneca and Tuscarora tribes of Central and Upstate New York.

Dental chair: The next time you go for a cleaning, credit Milton Waldo Hanchett, of Syracuse, for the chair he invented in 1840.

TRANSPORTATION

LOCALS AND VISITORS LOVE HOW EASY IT IS TO GET AROUND TOWN. Traveling to, from and around Syracuse and Central New York is a breeze by car, bus, plane or train. The region is at the crossroads of two of New York's major highways, an international airport and a regional transportation center that serves trains and national bus service. The cycling population is also growing as communities add bike paths to the landscape.

MEET THE NEIGHBORS

Sean Walsh, NY transportation director, DOT Foods, Inc., Liverpool

I AM DRAWN TO MY NEIGHBORHOOD BECAUSE Syracuse is a city with a small-town feel. I was raised in Syracuse, but still had opportunities to live in other parts of the country, so I've experienced what others had to offer. I chose to stay and raise my kids in Syracuse because of the sense of community, small-town values and security that I've experienced. The area offers everything a larger city does and more! My family has enjoyed the professional opportunities, social offerings, cultural arts scene and the many outdoor activities available.

MY FAVORITE LOCAL HAUNT IS the St. Joseph's Health Amphitheater at Lakeview. The amphitheater has a great selection of musical entertainment. Whether attending a show with friends or family, I love to sit on the lawn, overlooking the lake enjoying a nice summer evening.

I FEEL MOST AT HOME at several locations throughout the year with my family and friends. The Carrier Dome for lacrosse, football or basketball. The front patio at Limp Lizard on a hot summer night or at Fulton and Brewerton speedways catching some dirt track racing. The staple in the fall is always Beak & Skiff orchards for apple picking and wine tasting.

CENTRAL NEW YORK IS GREAT FOR its proximity and access to countless venues for entertainment, travel and leisure. It is also great for the accessing multiple lanes of shipping product. DOT Foods' NY Distribution Center is responsible for servicing the northeast portion of the United States and Canada, as well as overseas military accounts and international customers. The intersection of routes 90 and 81 allows DOT an efficient means to support our innovative approach in solving our partners' distribution obstacles.

OSWEGO COUNTY

LOCATED ON THE LAKE ONTARIO SHORELINE, Oswego County offers excellent education, workforce development, health care and affordable housing, as well as a rich history and a dynamic arts community. Known worldwide for our spectacular salmon and trout fishing, our pristine rivers, lakes and forests provide outstanding recreational activities any time of the year. An excellent highway infrastructure, friendly neighbors and welcoming communities are just a few more reasons why Oswego County is more than a great place to do business, it's a wonderful place to call home.

IT'S EASY TO GET AROUND – OR GET AWAY

One of the best things about living and doing business in Central New York is the region's transportation systems. Getting to work is easy and proximity to Northeast metro areas is a pleasant surprise!

AIR

Syracuse Hancock International Airport* 315-454-3263
www.flysyracuse.com

Offering nonstop service to 24 destinations, Syracuse International Airport also features diverse restaurants and retail shops, newly opened baby care and pet rooms, an animal therapy program to de-stress our passengers and the newly launched Fly Guide Ambassador program. As the gateway to the Central New York region and beyond, SYR is a critical piece of the region's infrastructure. The airport recently completed a major terminal improvement project that renovated and updated the look and flow of the building. New flooring and seating were added to modernize the concourses, and power was added to seating at all gate areas making travel convenient for passengers and their smart devices (SYR also features free Wi-Fi!). A Regional Aviation Museum featuring local aviation history exhibits and artifacts was also added to the terminal. The airport is located six miles north of the city of Syracuse. From the NYS Thruway, take Exit 36; from Interstate 81, take Exit 27.
